TED STATES We find the following very interesting article, advocating the annexation of Cuba, in the Pittsburg Post. It is well worthy of perusal: We have said that the acquisition of Cuba would reduce the price of sugar. We repeat it. Let us see to what extent this would operate. The largest amount of sugar ever produ Louisiana, in one year, was three hundred and countries, mainly Caba. But this year, it is supposed that the home product will not exceed one hundred thousand hogsheads, or one hundred and ten million pounds. If the consumplion continues the same, we shall buy this year five hundred and ninety million pounds.

But we will suppose the whole consumption for the year 1857 to be six hundred million pounds, and we buy five hundred million of it abroad. Averaging the price of all qualities, and taking present selling rates, we may state Buchanan, Fillmore,
7,001
They thought be had no right to demand of the undersigned as a condition to the granting at twelve cents. There is a duty of 30 per cent on sugar. This adds three and a half cents to the price of each pound at the assumed rate. he price of each pound at the assumed rate. This would amount, on all the foreign sugar bought, as above estimated, at $17,500,000, for he year 1857. But it adds the same to the price the home product also, and thus makes $21 00,000 as the increased cost of the article to all he actual consumers. Whether our figures are recisely correct or not, they equally well illusrate the principle.

Now Cuba, Louisiana and Texas can produce all the sugar this country will consume. If Cuwas a part of the United States, then the home product would supply the entire demand, but there would be no use in a duty for protection at all. The duty would be taken off, and of every citizen to have access to and copies down would come the price at once to the extent

That infernal traffic can never exist under Ameran law; a few fanatic dunces in the South, to the contrary, notwithstanding. To make Cuba a State of this Union, would mitigate the vis of slavery on the island.

la Cuba, as it is, slavery is a far more cruel astitution, than is allowed in any American State. It is of no account to our neighbor to modify, mitigate an evil, if it cannot be immeliately eradicated? As to the people of the Island who are not slaves, they are oppressed would be but to take those people from the resp of a tyrant and give them to themselves tart the principle of self-government there; let evolon the vast resources of the island, and thus found a great and prosperous island State

But, quoth the Reporter, it would make the south equal to the North in the Senate. Not The first State that will be admitted will be Minnesota. It will be in a few months. Then annex Cuba, and the Senate will stand just as it oes now. But in a very short time Nebraska. ansas, New Mexico, Utah and Oregon will b ready for admission as free States, giving the the North a preponderance it will ever retain. From the Louisiana Courier WELCOME KENTUCKY

When Breckinridge was nominated at Cincinnati, it was confidently believed that Kentucky would vote for him. The gallant young Democrats of that State with one accord, to the ne-gleet of private business, with much necessary abor, travelled over every hill and valley, raised their voices, in every hamlet, in behalf of Democracy and the rights of the States. There was no means left unused; there was no doubto face in argument as earnest as the wrestling it the patriarch for the blessing of the Almighy's messenger. They had vowed a vow in their hearts that Kentucky should be redeemed, and though the deservedly great popularity of the that result, there is searcely room to doubt that, had the nominee been another than her own worthy and honored son, still she would have taken her place, crowned with a smaller Democratic majority than now perhaps, with the glorions sisterhood of law-abiding Democratic

The fact is, Kentucky has now, and has always had, a strong bias towards sound States' rights Democracy. The high admiration entertained for Henry Clay, himself in the vigor of his early manhood, and in the pride of his first uccesses a Democrat, and the error committed by the dominant party some thirty years ago in an affair of State policy, have kept Kentucky in a false position. In now ranging herself on the side of Democracy, she has only returned to the position to which many of her most distinguished and able citizens have been ceaselessly and earnestly endeavoring to restore her. The fact that Kentucky was ever anything else but a Democratic State, will soon become a legend of the past, for which the kentuckian of twenty cars hence will be puzzled to account.

Democrats all over the Union will rejoice that the mists of political error no longer hang over Kentucky. While they lament for the lanati-cism that has blinded New Hampshire, and mingle their regrets with the defeated but unsub-duced Democrats of Maine and Michigan, they Professing to sell at Cost or otherwise, can but feel gratified that Kentucky has returned to the faith of her founders and progenitors, and that she now stands in the unclouded beauty of Democracy, by the side of her mother, good old Virginia, grasping the hands of Democratic Indiana in a Union-hinding embrace.

There is every reason to believe that Kentucky will never again fall into the sloughs of political error to soil the bright garment in which she has arrayed herself. Her demagogue editors may vent now their harmless spleen, while her recreant Abolitionists toil, but in vain,

THINGS ABOUT TOWN.

Testerday was really a most delightful day; the atmosphere was a magnanimous compromise between the extremes of heat and cold. It, was so balmy and invigorating that we were induced to circulate a little, and, in doing so, we ran suddenly upon the CITY WHARF. where everything in the shape of man, beast, relicles and boats, gave most unequivocal signs of increased and increasing business. The seemingly negovernable hustle and hurried cares of business burst upon one from every point of the compass, with telling and pleasing first—the gecompass, with telling and pleasing effect—the genial cause being the late RISE IN THE RIVER.

The faces of the merchants, mechanics, tradesnen, and, in fact, of those of every species of trade or profession, were so irradiated with beaming smiles of gladness, as to bring about the irresistible conclusion that there were fair prospects in the horizon for our fair city. We should not omplain too bitterly, and ask to be exempt from the evils which our near and remote neighbors We can now fill all orders for suffer in common with us, while we as an intelligent corporation, have the means at command to avert them: for he that sows not cannot expect to reap. If a case of dyspepsia should be neglected, most serious effects may ensue, for it lays the foundation for, is the incipient cause of, and very irrequently reminates in concumption I would impress upon the mind that to tride with this disease, may be to sport with that reason which constitutes man super-eminent among animal beings, or to embriter existence by adding a consciousness of folly to the penalty of pain.
This medicine is prepared entirely from vegetable substances; the most delicate stomach can bear it conventently, and it is given with perfect safety, in minute doses to the most tender inflants, its properties being of a trengthening and invigorating nature. It is neatly put up in bottles, with ample directions for itse.
The following testimonials from some well known and respectable citizens of Philadelphia, are fully corroborative of the tried efficacy of the Anti Dyspeptic Elixir.

Attetsation. We, having used William's Auti-Dyspectic Elixir with he most perfect satisfaction and success, take great plea sace in recommending it to all persons suffering with Dys-pepsia, as we are fully convinced of its most estimatel justifiers in restoring the digestive powers, removing a pain and uneasiness, and imparting a healthy tone to the Doctor James Williams:—For several years past, I have been laber to estacks of Dyapespast, but never have I been more discussingly afficied with its symptoms, that within the last less weeks. Indiscretion, nervous fritability, despondency, a souse of weight in the stomach, and severe pans in the left side, tendering me, for the time being, truly wretelied. Fortwardly, I was recommended by a linend to try your Blazir. I did so, and in less than two weeks, indiscretion ceased, pair and nervous degression left me, and appetite, with mental and bodily health, were fully restored. To me the cure seemed almost an raculous, and my object in writing to you is—a hope that other persons suffering the interior of Dyapepsia will avail themselves of your efficient remedy.

PROVE, GRATE, COPPER, TIN, SHEET-IRON AND HOLLOW-WARE MANUFACTURERS,

No. 536, Northwest corner Main and Third street.

In calling the attention of declers in our line in this market, we would state that during the last six months our attention has been directed to getting up a large number of new Stove and Grate Patterns, which, added to our at ready large stock, gives us one of the most extensive and diversified assortineuts in the western market. Among the number, we would refer to our "Ashland Kentuckian" Cook Stove, three sizes out.) These Stoves have great weight of metal, highly fuished and elegant in appearance. They combine all the modern improvements that practical experience has developed.

We would invite dealers to call and examine, for themselves, and we think in quality, price, &c., they can be suited. Having enlarged our manufacturing department, we can promptly meet all demands. Thankful for the pat ronage which has been so kinkly bestowed upon us, we trust, by strict and prompt attention to all orders, to secure a continuance of it. And the quality of our manufactured work shall be, as heretofore, equal if not superior to the best, and satisfaction given in all casses.
